Price: €742.00

The "T-60" from BRENNABOR is your bike if you like sporty riding, even in the low mountain ranges. With a total of 18 gears, the SHIMANO derailleur gears cater to every cadence requirement, from fast descents to short climbs. However, it is not only the wide gear spread, but also the tapered steering tube that underlines the sportiness of the bike. The steerer tube is wider and thus increases the load capacity. The larger bearings are also less susceptible to wear. The hydraulic Disc Brakes (180 mm) are there for reliable stopping power. Even in wet conditions, their power can be well controlled. When the going gets tough, they are also spontaneously ready to bite. The 75 mm travel Fork provides welcome touring comfort. It really comes into its own on rooty forest paths. But it also compensates for unevenness on cobblestones in the city - together with the 50 mm wide tires.
