Ergonomic & efficient Every second counts when riding a road bike: The CONTEC road handlebar "Brut" is a valuable companion in the fight against the clock. After all, every ambitious racer needs a handlebar that is optimised in terms of aerodynamics, comfort and ergonomics. The "Brut" allows riders to drop deep into the handlebar without getting tired. This is due to the anatomically compact design and the long, flat and ergonomic bends. No matter the weight, a road handlebar has to be perfect. In the CONTEC "Brut" with a handlebar clamp diameter of 31.8 mm, this is achieved with aluminium 6061. The material also scores with convincing stability and rust-free properties for impressive durability. The extended centre section (120 mm) also has grooves for internal brake cables. "Brut" is a road bike handlebar for high demands. It has a compact width and is available in different lengths.
