For enduring & demanding tours Anyone considering buying a gravel bike for sporty tours should first take a look at KAYZA's "Alvar 4". The cross bike is more or less a precursor to a gravel bike - but with straight Handlebars. It combines the comfort standard of trekking bikes with the sporty aspect of MTBs. Ideal for mastering enduring and challenging tours and increasing your personal fitness level - all in a sporty and comfortable riding position. With 24 gears, the SHIMANO "Acera" derailleur gear system offers a good selection for climbing steeper mountains with confidence, but also for long asphalt stretches where you can really pick up the pace. Always on hand: the hydraulic Disc Brakes. Their power can always be precisely dosed, but when the going gets tough, they stop with pinpoint accuracy - even in wet conditions. On easy terrain, the SUNTOUR Fork with its 63 mm travel levels out uneven ground. Grip and damping are provided by the 45 mm wide SCHWALBE "G-One Bite" tires with an open lug profile for the perfect bite and good self-cleaning in rougher terrain. The bronze-colored sidewall gives the overall look a cool retro look.
