Price: €735.00

Your performance always in viewThe "Red" groupset from SRAM meets the very highest demands in terms of shifting performance. Progress is visible in every detail. Design, degree of innovation and ensure that the athlete merges with his bike. With the "Red AXS" crankset, you also get a power meter that shows you your performance after every training session and every race.For accuracy, it measures your pedaling power on both carbon crank arms (+/-1.5 %). With Bluetooth and wireless ANT+ data transmission, your ride data is transmitted directly to the Bike Computer. And yet the power meter's energy consumption is comparatively very low - you can enjoy up to 200 hours of riding on one battery charge. It can be changed for the next tour without tools. Compatible with your SRAM 12-speed drivetrain.
