Reliability in a timeless designWith the "Trekking", EXCELSIOR offers a typical, fully equipped everyday bike. This bike has a classic, timeless design and is very robust thanks to its steel frame and steel fork.This city bike embodies reliability in spades. It requires little maintenance and is very durable. The 7-speed rear hub from Shimano is one example of this. This makes things very easy. Care and maintenance are hardly necessary.The bike with the HiTen frame meets high visual standards with its chic, all-black body parts. Nostalgia and the tried and tested are the focus here, plain and simple.In general, the "Trekking" offers a lot of performance for comparatively little money. The men's frame up to frame height 61 and the trapeze frame up to frame height 55 are particularly suitable for taller riders.This bike uses a V-brake for braking, while the Schwalbe "Road Cruiser" offers plenty of grip during braking maneuvers. With its AXA lighting including a 15-lux headlight and a rear light with parking light function, this city bike can also be ridden at night from the saddle.The "Trekking" from EXCELSIOR cuts a fine figure as a versatile bike for everyday use. It is an excellent companion for everyday use.
