The Conway RYVON LT 10.0 e-enduro bike is the ultimate off-road machine, designed to take your off-road adventures to a whole new level. With innovative German engineering, high-quality components and a performance that will inspire you, this bike sets new scales in the field of E-MTBs. The RYVON LT 10.0 features a removable battery concept that offers higher energy density and incredibly fast charging times. This means you can enjoy and extend your time on the trails more without having to worry about battery life. We know that comfort and ergonomics are key to getting the most out of your rides. That's why the RYVON LT 10.0 features our Ergonomic Sizing System. With coordinated grip diameters, stem lengths, handlebar widths and crank lengths that vary depending on the frame size, you can be sure that this bike will fit you perfectly. At the heart of the RYVON LT 10.0 is the powerful Light-E MTB engine, which gives you the power you need for the steepest climbs and challenging descents. Together with high-end spec equipment such as the SRAM "X0 Eagle AXS T-Type" drivetrain, maximum performance is guaranteed. The Eagle Transmission is light, robust and shifts precisely - even under full load. The RYVON LT 10.0 is a light e-enduro bike that is characterized by its completely newly developed frame. This frame heralds a new generation of frame platforms and design language at CONWAY. The striking lines and innovative battery concept make it clear that this bike is made for the future. With Long Travel suspension, it is ready to tackle even the roughest off-road conditions.
