If you like to ride with clipless shoes—but not exclusively—our Bulldog combo pedal might be just the thing for you: It offers the best of both worlds, with one side as a clipless pedal and the other as a platform pedal.The one-piece aluminum body features a CNC-milled CrMo axle with a sealed industrial bearing that’s protected against dirt and water, making it low-maintenance and durable. One side of the Bulldog features an SPD system—its CrMo cleat has an adjustable release tension. On the other side, you’ll find a large pedal surface with replaceable CrMo pins for excellent grip on dynamic trails.The pair of pedals weighs 535 grams.
