

BASIL Backpack "Ever Green Daypack"

thyme green

RRP: 69,99 €

Evergreen through the dayOne Bag three variants: That's the Ever Green Daypack from BASIL. It is also sustainable and fashionable. The backpack is made from 40 percent recycled PET plastic. 21 plastic bottles of 350 ml each are recycled in this Backpack. The waterproof folding closure ensures that your belongings will survive a small rain shower dry. The size of the backpack can also be varied between 14 and 19 liters using the carabiner hook. The stylish floral print was designed by Dutch artist Meggy Lemmens. Straps made from vegan leather with snap hooks and bronze parts in an antique look add a fashionable finishing touch to this statement bag. The Backpack is equipped with Reflective Stripes on all sides for maximum safety on the road. The backpack can be used in three different ways. Option one: you strap it onto your back. Option two: Carry it as a shoulder bag. The Carrying Strap can be converted. Option three: You simply clamp it to the Carrier thanks to the hook-on system.
